The Academy is exempt from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable District of Columbia income tax laws.
Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America provide consistent guidance for the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an entity's financial statements and prescribe a threshold of "more likely than not" for recognition of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. The Academy performed an evaluation of uncertain tax positions for the year ended June 30, 2015, and determined that there were no matters that would require recognition in the financial statements or which may have any effect on its tax-exempt

Form 990, Part I, Line 1, Description of Organization Mission:

college preparatory education, career training in high growth occupations, and college-credit classes.

The LAYC Career Academy (LAYCCA) is an innovative school model that provides a bridge between high school and college for youth ages 16 to 24 in the District of Columbia. LAYCCA provides youth with college credits, a rigorous and self-paced GED program, a college preparatory curriculum and career training in the health care and information technology (IT) fields. Ninety four percent of graduates are working or in college or both and 100% of those who started college are still in school or have graduated.

LAYC Career Academy's main objective is to prepare young people for college and careers. We do this by providing strong academics using the principles of positive youth development to foster skills like self-awareness, self-confidence, problem-solving skills, and resilience. Based on their assessment scores, students are placed into one of the LAYC Career Academy student sub-groups. From there, students work towards earning their GED, college credits and post-secondary education. As students move through our program, they benefit from an advisor-advocate model, community building, student recognition programs, and social activities that create a school environment in which they feel comfortable and valued.
